

Worksheet 3 on OS

1. Create a tree structure as follows starting from your Home Directory using mkdir and cd commands:

2. In the directory Indian, create a file called IndianCuisine.txt using cat. The content is to be typed out by you. (working directory is Veggie)
3. In the directory Curry, create two files called ButterChicken.txt and DoPaiza.txt using cat. The contents of these files should be typed out according to you. (working directory is Bread)
4. In the directory Continental, create two files called GrilledChicken.txt and RussianSalad.txt using cat. The contents are to be entered by you. (working directory is Local)

5. In the directory Chinese, create a file called FortuneCookie.txt using cat. The contents are to be entered by you. (working directory is Salad)
6. In the directory Local, create a file called Jadoh.txt using cat. The contents are to be entered by you. (working directory is Naga)
7. Use cat command to combine ButterChicken.txt and DoPaiza.txt and place in a file called Summary.txt (working directory is Khasi)
8. Use cp command to copy contents of file FortuneCookie.txt to a file called Dup.txt in Naga directory. (working directory is Khasi)
9. In a single step copy the file named Summary.txt from its current location to a file called Copy.txt under Sesame directory. (working directory is Chicken)
10. Use ls command to list the contents of your home directory and store it in a file called Tree.txt in TREE directory. (working directory is Chilli)
11. Edit the contents of DoPaiza.txt using cat and save it as DoPaiza2.txt under Curry directory. (working directory is Grilled)